Experience

Web Developer & UI UX Designer

I am from Indonesia and I am a vocational high school student majoring in software engineering. I have mastered several Front End and Back End programming languages for over 2 years. I also master UI / UX Design to build a product. the material I got was not only from school but I also took online courses on programming and design.

Web Programming Youtuber

Youtube.com/webprogramming17

In my channel, I talk about Web Programming and design tutorials. With me creating videos every week it means I always learn new things and keep up-to-date in the web programming world. With this channel, I want to educate this generation in my country about web prograaming especially at my school, because we dont get that much in our formal education, especially the ones who cant afford colleges.
That s why I use the Indonesian language in my videos. Second, it helps me promote and develop my brand, to earn more exposure to clients.
